

HUMAN RIGHTS POLICY

October 2020

Respect for human rights is a core value of KEMET Electronics Corporation (KEMET). We are committed to promoting the human rights of all people through our relationship with our employees, the communities in which we operate, and our suppliers. This Human Rights Policy (Policy) is guided by international human rights principles encompassed by various standards and conventions, such as Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, the International Labour Organization (ILO) and the ILO Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work.

This Policy further states KEMET's commitment to all employees, suppliers, partners, and any other people impacted by our business that we and our employees adhere to the principles and policies outlined herein. Forced labor, slavery, and human trafficking are abhorrent abuses of human rights and we have taken the necessary steps to ensure such abuses are not occurring within our supply chain or in any part of our business operations. In 2008, we adopted the Electronic Industry Citizenship Coalition (EICC) Code of Conduct – now titled the Responsible Business Alliance (RBA) Code of Conduct – which has been fully integrated into KEMET's Global Code of Conduct. Together, these codes of conduct outline KEMET's corporate responsibility policies. We require all employees and suppliers to comply with the RBA Code of Conduct.

The RBA Code of Conduct establishes comprehensive standards for corporate responsibility which include the following topics: Labor, Health and Safety, Environmental, Ethics, and Management Systems. These standards ensure the working conditions in the electronics industry supply chain are safe, that workers are treated with respect and dignity, and that manufacturing processes are environmentally sustainable.

In accordance with the RBA Code of Conduct, the following fundamental elements have been enacted globally within each KEMET facility and are incumbent upon all employees and suppliers.

LABOR AND HUMAN RIGHTS PROTECTIONS

KEMET's policies ensure protection of workers consistent with the provisions of the RBA Code of Conduct. The policies provide for specific protections against: forced, bonded or indentured labor, and human trafficking; the employment of underage workers; and inhumane treatment, harassment or discrimination. Our policies also meet requirements for wages, hours and benefits, and rights for peaceful assembly. Please reference the RBA Code of Conduct for complete verbiage related to these labor standards.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

KEMET's policies ensure the health and safety of workers is consistent with the provisions of the RBA Code of Conduct. The policies provide work-related protections from hazards, emergency situations, illness and injury, exposure, physical demands, and improper machine safeguarding, as well as ensure proper sanitation, food and housing, and appropriate communication between workers and management. Please reference the RBA Code of Conduct for complete verbiage related to these health and safety standards.
